

Being at war...

I felt sick of worrying too much. What if I die?! What if I kill someone "ahh" I'm no murderer I'll own up and feel guilty anyway. Will people like me the way I am?! Even though I am a little bit over dramatic, this is serious and I'm not overreacting. Why did I sign up for this. (He sighs.)

What do we do if we get injured well? I suppose my friends will help me but what if they're dead will I suffer all alone? What will the trenches be like? I am not happy at all. What if I fall and die? What if I embarrass myself.

Calm down, take deep breaths one two three come on, believe in yourself, what if on the battlefields there lay hundreds or even thousands of dead soldiers and I could be one of them "ahh" one two three calm down.

Something touched me and I turned around and no one was there... "Hello" I shouted no one answered "Hello" I shouted again no one was there no one answered.

The trenches were damp, wet and smelt like death "eww" shouts Edward.

"What are the battlefields going to be like?"

"I don't know" says James. "I want to go home right now" shouts

James, "No James don't leave us. I'm going, bye guys bye everyone shouts "bye James" When do you think he'd come back

"Not with the wind blowing like this," said Ralph.

"Eww" is that a dead soldier (They all look) yes said Edward and it's a britton like us too RIP said Ralph.

"I'm hungry," said Edward, thinking, "What am I thinking? eat him

"No Ralph I meant ask for seconds "oh eating him is more fun" fun said Ralph "yeah and it involves blood and I'm a sucker for blood I hate it!" Ok (whispers to other people) Fun sponge.

"No eating him" Ralph. Ok fine. He's gone lets eat it now

"No shouts the other people" uh oh a war is going to start soon grab your gear and start training "STOP" shouts Edward it's only our first day we have 1 day to settle in so you can train but don't start charging at the battlefields ok

"ok" everyone says.

Did everyone have a nice sleep "NO" shouted Edward "I could hear rats, cockroaches, mice and people lots of people ugh im going to sleep and dont wake me up."

BEEP!!!!

UGH I want to go to sleep right now but now a dumb war comes on grrr really right now"

Uh oh a war has started, attack charge and ame. fire, no germans were dead not even 1 of them twelve people were dead from the Britton side though "come on lads you can do this! are you weak"

"No" everyone shouts.

"Ahh the war ended." Wait where's Edward" said Ralph he might be dead said Ralph "ahhh" "a bomb went off in the toilet in the left under the tunnel a big bomb went off i there its all burnt."

"But I needed to go to the toilet."

"Well, still tell us you could of died."

"But it's private."

"Just tell us Edward."

"Ok."

"Lets go to sleep now me need to make up at nine thirty tomorrow and i know it's only ten past five but we really do need to go to sleep and wake up nice and early so let's get to sleep we've got a really busy morning ahead of us we've got breakfast at nine forty training at ten past ten we've got dinner at eleven we've got a war at twelve we've got supper at two and a nap till three till five and then it's time to get a rest and go to sleep so speaking of sleep we better get some then shall we."
