

THE GREAT WAR

Chapter 1

Nick and his little brother Ryan went to the field to play catch. They were talking about going to war tomorrow. Ryan was definitely going to war. He thought it would be fun to fight. Nick promised Ryan he would be there for him.

Nick was going to war too so they played catch and after an hour of playing catch they went to bed.

Nick was stressed for tomorrow. He just wanted to stay home but he knew he had to go.

They both were ready so they sprinted to the ship.

Soon we are going to go off to Germany. Nick had to say a big goodbye to his friends because they were too scared to come with him. Ryan hugged Nick tightly as they sailed away.

Once they got to Germany they were immediately rushed to a bus that was going to take them to the trenches they had to run through the squishy muddy trenches.

To get to the front line it took them both an hour. They both got a gun. I looked at everyone around me and all I could see was fear and disappointment.

" I throw a gas bomb and all the gas at the british trench and lots of the soliders looked almost burnt but he still cared on shooting"

Ryan was killing everyone if needed.

"Ryan, we need you to go up to no man's land!" Ryan was astonished rushed to no mans land and he waved goodbye to Nick he went up Nick was killing everyone that got in ryan's way "go ryan go" as ryan sprinted so faster than he'd ever gone suddenly a german fly out of nowhere with his knife in his hand and stabbed ryan Nick shot the man that stabbed ryan and Nick went on to no man's land and with a banged he ran like the wind and got to ryan and saved his life and grabbed the nife that he had and gave it to Ryan and then Nick ran carrying Ryan to safety and he ran to the sleeping trench and as Ryan slept Nick launched a gas bomb at the british but threw a gas bomb too so Ryan was taken away and Nick had to grab a gas mask and go onto no mans land and just ran.

He ran and he ran but he found Ryan's old knife so he picked it up and went to the middle of no man's land and said S T O P T H I S! There was silence for a minute. He shouted "Do we want to go home?" "Yes" "ok then let's stop we all almost died please can we just STOP!!" as they all step out of their trenches and shake hands with each other we will make peace. We all went home... Nick had an infection on his foot called trench foot and had to go to get a job at the market to get some money to pay to heal Ryan but Ryan died soon after Nick suffered from depression and one day decided to commit to suicide ... and so he died and met Ryan in the after life
